

From the desk of the MD – Gary Page

To our valued customers

I am pleased to announce that recently our website, www.seremed.com was relaunched.

We are extremely proud of the new look, ease of use and interactive nature that we trust will assist you to navigate to sections of interest or to engage with us online. Two innovative features amongst others on our website are the order app, and Sere-med Direct

www.seremedorders.com

The Sere-med order app was initially introduced for use on mobile phones, thereafter, work commenced to develop it further enabling access with personal computers, either directly on www.seremedorders.com or via the website. There you can use one of two order app icons that are located on the home page control bar or further down the page in the introduction to Sere-med.

The order app affords you, our customer the opportunity to view the Sere-med product range, with “real-time” stock availability, list pricing, discount structures, news from Sere-med and the advantage of placing your order online at a time convenient for you.

Sere-med Direct

Sere-med Direct is a new service available to the public whereby selected home health care products can be acquired directly from Sere-med.

These will include a digital blood pressure monitor that is ideal for home measurement, a glucometer, nebulizer, ear thermometer, our Sere-flow nasal irrigator and more...

This direct service is not in competition with pharmacies but an alternative for you and your patient. Our focus is to provide home health care products that in the opinion of the prescribing doctor offer unique features that can benefit their patient.

Sere-med will endeavour to re-direct enquiries to those pharmacies that offer the selected Sere-med Direct products, we will however continuously engage with medical doctors as to directing their patients to Sere-med Direct should they wish to do so.

I would like to take this opportunity on behalf of the management team and staff at Sere-med to thank our valued customers for your past and continuous support.

We trust that our website will be an improved service and that your interaction with it will be a beneficial one

Yours Sincerely,

Gary Page
